

GJCL: June 8, 2011

Dear JCL Sponsor and Officers,

Salvete! I hope you are enjoying your summers. As we have been informed by our NJCL President, Elliot Wilson, this year at NJCL Convention, a book drive will be hosted in coordination with the charity organization known as the International Book Project, based in Lexington, KY, (<http://www.intlbookproject.org/index.php>) which provides free books to classrooms in need, both in America and abroad.

Following his call to service, I would like to encourage you to get in touch with members of your chapter who are planning to attend NJCL Convention this year in Kentucky. We have been requested to bring 1-2 books (though the more, the better!) to NJCL Convention. The International Book Project specifically has requested children's books in English and Spanish, but they will accept many other types as well.

For more information, take a look at the flyer that has been posted on the NJCL website:

Thank you very much, and I am looking forward to having a great time with all of our Georgia delegates at NJCL this year.

If you have any questions about anything at all, please don't hesitate to send me an email (vicepresident@gjcl.org).

Thanks again,

Esther Kim

GJCL Vice President
